PROFILE SUMMARY

Full Stack Developer and AI specialist with hands-on experience building full-stack applications and AI-powered automation solutions for enterprise clients in both U.S. and Kenyan tech sectors. I build robust systems using Python, JavaScript, React, and Node.js across various database systems like PostgreSQL and MySQL, complemented by deep experience in AI data annotation and prompt engineering. Currently at Copy Cat Group, I develop and integrate systems such as an SAP API for credit control and prototype AI tender scraping pipelines, significantly contributing to operational efficiencies.
